Sections 223 (Public Work) and 198e (Private Work) of New York's Labor Law impose significant risk for general contractors/construction managers performing work in New York State. Effectively, these laws impose responsibility on the GC/CM to pay for subcontractor underpayments of wages/benefits for years after completion of the project. Levi Barrett and Greg Begg of AGC NYS Member Law Firm Peckar & Ambramson will discuss these liabilities, how to mitigate the risk and, how to respond to a claim of such underpayment.
